

Two Tenure-track Positions in Moral Theology and One Term Position in Theology and Gender

SAINT JOHN'S SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY AND SEMINARY AND THE COLLEGE OF SAINT BENEDICT/SAINT JOHN'S UNIVERSITY announce a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in moral theology/Christian ethics. Research specialty within moral theology is open, but candidates must demonstrate a commitment to teaching undergraduate and graduate courses on marriage and family, human sexuality, and biomedical ethics, as well as an introductory theology course required of all undergraduates. As a member of the School of Theology faculty, the successful candidate will play a vital role in preparing students for lay and ordained ministry in the Roman Catholic Church. The successful candidate must be Roman Catholic, and must support the Benedictine and Catholic character of the institutions. Ph.D. or equivalent expected. Saint John's University, a liberal arts college for men, and the College of Saint Benedict, a liberal arts college for women, are located four miles apart in Central Minnesota just outside metropolitan St. Cloud and 70 miles from Minneapolis. Both are Catholic colleges in the Benedictine tradition, which emphasize quality teaching and a commitment to intercultural learning. For further information, see <http://www.csbsju.edu>. Please send letter of interest, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, copies of transcripts original transcripts will be required at time of interview), and evidence of teaching effectiveness to: College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University, Human Resources, PO Box 7188, Collegeville, MN 56321. employment@csbsju.edu. Screening of applications will begin immediately, and continue through October 15. For more information, please contact Dan McKanan, Chair, CSB/SJU Department of Theology, Saint John's University, Collegeville, Minnesota 56321, 320/363-3181, dmckanan@csbsju.edu, or Bill Cahoy, Dean, School of Theology, Saint John's University, Collegeville, Minnesota 56321, 320/363-2622, bcahoy@csbsju.edu. Women and people of diverse racial, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds are encouraged to apply. The College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University are EEO/AA employers.

COLLEGE OF SAINT BENEDICT AND SAINT JOHN'S UNIVERSITY invite applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in moral theology/Christian ethics to begin August, 2007. The teaching load of six undergraduate courses per year will include general and topical courses in moral theology as well as substantial teaching responsibility for an introductory theology course required of all undergraduates. The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong commitment to introducing first year undergraduates to the Christian theological tradition, and will support the Benedictine and Catholic character of the institutions. Ph.D. preferred, ABD required. Saint John's University, a liberal arts college for men, and the College of Saint Benedict, a liberal arts college for women, are located four miles apart in Central Minnesota just outside metropolitan St. Cloud and 70 miles from Minneapolis. Both are Catholic colleges in the Benedictine tradition, which emphasize quality teaching and a commitment to intercultural learning. For further information, see <http://www.csbsju.edu>. Send letter of application, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, a statement of philosophy of teaching and learning, and copies of transcripts, (official transcripts required for interview) to: College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University, Human Resources - Position # THEO-U, PO Box 7188, Collegeville, MN 56321. employment@csbsju.edu. Screening of applications will begin immediately and continue through November 1, 2006. For more information, please contact Dr. Dan McKanan, Chair, (320)363-3181, dmckanan@csbsju.edu. Women and people of diverse racial, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds are encouraged to apply. The College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University are EEO/AA employers.

COLLEGE OF SAINT BENEDICT AND SAINT JOHN'S UNIVERSITY invite applications for a full-time, one-year term position in theology and gender. Candidates must have a doctoral specialty in a theological subdiscipline with strong research and teaching interests in gender studies. The teaching load of six undergraduate courses per year will include substantial teaching responsibility for an undergraduate theology course required of all undergraduates. The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong commitment to introducing first year undergraduates to the Christian theological tradition, and will support the Benedictine and Catholic character of the institutions. Ph.D. preferred, ABD required. Saint John's University, a liberal arts college for men, and the College of Saint Benedict, a liberal arts college for women, are located four miles apart in Central Minnesota just outside metropolitan St. Cloud and 70 miles from Minneapolis. Both are Catholic colleges in the Benedictine tradition, which emphasize quality teaching and a commitment to intercultural learning. For further information, see <http://www.csbsju.edu>. Please send letter of application, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, a statement of philosophy of teaching and learning, and copies of transcripts, (official transcripts required for interview) to: College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University, Human Resources - Position # THEO-T, PO Box 7188, Collegeville, MN 56321. employment@csbsju.edu. Screening of applications will begin November 1, and continue until the position is filled. For more information, please contact Dr. Dan McKanan, Chair, Department of Theology, (320) 363-3181, dmckanan@csbsju.edu. Women and people of diverse racial, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds are encouraged to apply. The College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University are EEO/AA employers.